KEYNOTE ADDRESS: JEFF KIEHL

"Living in Service to the Inexplicable and Paradoxical"

"The spirit of the depths took my understanding and all my knowledge and placed them at the service of the inexplicable and the paradoxical."

C.G. Jung (The Red Book p. 229)

Wherever we look opposites abound often accompanied by fears of every increasing polarization and disintegration. Jung's view of psyche is rooted in an appreciation for polar opposites and the important roles they play in our life. By creatively working with opposites, we actually reduce the risks of destructive polarizations. Indeed, embracing life's 'inexplicable and paradoxical' nature leads to wholeness and a soulful connection to the world. In this presentation I explore Jung's explorations of the paradoxical nature of opposites and how the inexplicable can connect us to a deeply meaningful universe. To this end, I consider various fields of 'extraordinary knowing' that influenced Jung's view of psyche, in particular the role of synchronicity plays in creatively complementing our purely rational worldview.

MAPPING THE DREAMS

Individuation Presentation, Betsy Perluss

"My aim in this presentation is to map my individuation from the perspective of psyche through dreams. While the ego creates the narrative, drawing connections, my dreams will serve as the waypoints, indicating the route."

1:40–2:10

MY LIFE SO FAR: IN THE WINGS OF ISIS

Individuation Presentation, Carol Dieckmann

"In this individuation presentation, I will retrace the path of my life from early trauma experiences to transformative experiences-through drawings, paintings, and spontaneous visions."

2:10–2:25

Break

2:25–2:55

IMAGES OF DESCENT

Individuation Presentation, Lindsey Geiger

"Lindsey illustrates her personal individuation path with a series of images and an indigenous tale of descent. Themes of the presentation include encounters with inner figures and a transformation of the god image."
